Visit to the Villa Langmatt, Baden

The spring flowers will be finished but this museum, set in lovely lawns and gardens, is always worth a visit.

Many of you have been before but the Impressionist paintings shown here are always worth another visit. The museum is in need of extensive renovations and will be closed for over a year. A last chance to see the exhibition now being shown - Forever Young: the most important Impressionist pictures from the Langmatt collection.

Meet at the entrance to the museum

Parking is available opposite the museum.
